SWORN CIRCULATION

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Cuts

upon THE LEDGER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following terms:

For Notices of Suppers, excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, &c., THE LEDGER will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the unvariable rule. This, however,

Does Not Include

notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Locals in THE LEDGER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line local inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—32 times;—the bill is $12 35. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed probably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate this trouble, no "till forbid" notices will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

☞ All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.

GAVE BOND.

Dr. S. T. McClung Gives Security and Is Released From Jail.

Just as THE LEDGER goes to press Mr. Thomas J. Pickett, Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for this District, entered bond in $500 for the appearance of Dr. S. T. McClung at the June term of the Circuit Court, and the Doctor was released from Jail.

BACK FROM CANTON.

With a wardrobe that is jaunty and a traveling bag, brand new,
He is smiling in the station as he grants an interview.
His manner's very knowing and his every glance implies
That his ship has just been sighted; that his star is on the rise,
He instructs you in the management of Government affairs,
And you feel that he is worthy of an office and its cares;
You wonder what exalted post 'twill be his lot to gain,
He is on his way to Canton, and he's waiting for the train.
A few days later he appears. He looks a little dazed,
The traveling bag seems smaller than it was when last you gazed.
When you strive for conversation, he has little more to say,
Than, "Young man, beware of politics; it really doesn't pay."
He's not at all his jovial self when stoutly he declares
"My time must be devoted to my personal affairs."
There is something in his manner that provokes a thrill of pain—
This man who went to Canton, and has just got home again.

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For the Next Twenty-four Hours.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

Blue—RAIN OR SNOW;

Valentine's Day passed without any broken noses or black eyes on account of "beautiful" and "humorous" missives sent. What a pity self-respecting people do not rise up and crush the semi-indecent and insulting trash that is sold under the name of "comic Valentines."

The unlucky "13" has another eye in maurning. The sale of tickets for last night's show at the Opera-house opened on the 13th, with the 13th set of tickets, as it was the 13th entertainment given this season;—and it would have been impossible to have gotten another small boy into the building.

MUSIC, MIRTH, MELODY!

The Jolly Pathfinders at the Washington Opera-House All This Week.

It is with pleasure that the Managers of the Washington Opera-house announce an engagement with the best farce comedy entertainers traveling, Rentfrow's Jolly Pathfinders, who will hold a laughing festival at the Opera-house all this week, and judging from last night's production of "Below Zero," they should have a crowded house all week.

They have a reportoire of highly entertaining and original musical comedies, each and every one of which is protected by copyright ownership.

Rentfrow's famous prize ideal silver cornet band and solo operatic orchestra is a special feature, while the cast includes such capable artists as Miss Grace Rentfrow, Miss Jean Bortin, Miss Grace Seith, Miss Mabel Moray, Bert Hodgkins, Edmond Brussells, Harry King, the popular Rentfrows and others well known in the dramatic and vaudeville line. Fifteen years of brilliant successes attest the popularity of the Jolly Pathfinders.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A Madman Came Near Shooting Detective Fitzgerald at Covington.

Thomas H. Wright, who went suddenly insane Saturday, was arrested in Covington yesterday morning after a desperate struggle with the officers.

Wright came within an ace of killing someone.

He pulled his revolver from his overcoat pocket and tried to shoot Detective Fitzgerald, who seized him, but the hammer of the revolver caught in the madman's glove and he was unable to use it.

While he was struggling with Fitzgerald, Detectives Butler, Crim and McDermott rushed up and succeeded in landing him at Covington Police Headquarters.

There he stated that he would have killed all the officers but for the accident that happened.

Wright said that he had a good time and was ready to die.

Wright had been stopping with James Gedge, right next door to where Chief of Police Pugh lives.

LEWIS COUNTY APPLE TREE.

For Ninety Years It Has Produced Golden, Luscious Fruit.

On Enoch McCall's farm, two miles East of Vanceburg, is an apple tree that has been bearing fruit far ninety years.

It is a yellow bellefiower and was planted when that whole region was almost one solid forest and has lived to see the giant of the woods disappear, towns and cities spring into view, two generations of people die, three new generations appear and yet the old bellefiower stands like a sentinel at his post and still annually drops big yellow apples.

It would take a basket forty eight feet wide set under the tree to catch every apple that falls.

Five feet from the ground it measures nine feet six inches in circumference.

The tree shows some signs of decay now but no doubt the year of 1900 will find it producing as sweet and fragrant blossoms and as delicious golden fruit as it did nearly one hundred years ago.

It has done duty for almost a century, defying the elements to destroy its usefulness and has certainly earned a homestead.

Interesting Items That Every Man in Maysville Should Read.

The Boy's Rally on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock was more largely attended than the January service had been, and a good interest was shown. Mr. Joseph Easton spoke very helpfully on the subject "The Boy Daniel."

"First Aid to the Injured" will be the theme of a special talk to be given by Dr. C. C. Owens before the members and gentlemen friends of the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 7:30 o'clock After this practical talk an exhibition of the class drill and exercises in the gymnasium will be given. No admission fee, and all men invited.

Those who attended the Men's Rally on Sunday afternoon were given a rich treat along musical lines. The Christian Church choir was present and sang several soul-stirring anthems of praise, and in addition Mr. T. Reed Chunn sang very pleasingly "The Lord My Pasture Shall Prepare," and a quartet made up from choir members rendered "Alone With Jesus" very effectively. There was also good speaking, Rev. I. P. Trotter giving an earnest and practical address on "The Young Man's Opportunities" About 100 gentlemen were present

The junior members and their girl friends were very pleasingly entertained in the Association parlor last Saturday evening, and the "Valentine Reception," to which they had been looking forward for some time with great expectations, proved to be highly successful. The music for the occasion was kindly furnished by the Misses May Burgess, Lida Berry, Mary Huston January and Bessie Owens, and was enjoyed by all. Every one participated in the games, which occupied the first part of the evening's program, and following these was the "cake walk," a most pleasing feature to the onlookers especially. The Judges, after considerable discussion as to who deserved first mention—for all had performed their part in this exercise with grace and naturalness—decided to give one of the cakes to Buford Chenowath and Elizabeth Clinkinbeard and the other to Laurance Phister and Bessie Hunter. Refreshment was then provided in the form of candy kisses, and the closing feature consisted of the "Valentine Grab-bag," each one drawing from the mail pouch a pretty valentine. Before leaving the boys expressed, by a rousing "aye" vote, their thanks to the musicians and to those who had donated the cake and confections and to all who had contributed in any way to the success of the occasion.

CUM GRANO SALIS!

Craddock Says He Paid For Having His Hair and Whiskers Trimmed.

Paris Kentuckian.

In Lexington we called on the woman barber, where one of the finest looking of ladies presides—Miss Sarah J. Jones on South Broadway near Hill. She is a fine brunette, 20 years of age, 160 pounds weight. Like the usual barber, she is a fine talker.

"I came here from Beattyville to live with my sister, Mrs Moses, wife of the drummer."

"Moses," we repeated, "I thought you looked like a pretty Jewess."

"Yes, but I m not; I am an American," she replied.

We asked: "Are you married?"

"No, sir."

"Neither am I; but of course you wouldn't marry an old bachelor like me."

"No telling, if he could take care of me."

We had simply asked that our hair be dressed, as we wanted to make presentable appearance among some ladies at matinee to hear the play of "The Girl I Left Behind Me," as we had left Senoritas in Mexico, Canucks in Canada and other foreigners, besides our lovely Americans.

"Then," said the barber, "you better let me trim whiskers and hair, just to cut off the uneven parts."

Then again it occurred to her that we needed shampoo, and it was so agreeable to an old bachelor to be thus barbered by a lady we made no objection. After closing the barbering she suggestad our necktie needed arranging, coat dusted, etc.

"What's to pay?" we asked the charmer.

"Leave that to yourself."

"Take pay from this dollar, and I will also give you $5 in published interview."

"Come back again," she suggested, as barbers always do, and we will.

Miss Jones wants to engage some other young lady to learn barbering with her.

WE'RE FOR AMERICA AMERICANS!

Up to date, if we may believe all the reports, WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN has refused at least $250,000 worth of engagements, and only one measly little $50,000 situation has refused him.

AND now come both Governor BRADLEY and the Hon. JOHN W. YERKES and denounce as false the newspaper reports that there is ill feeling between them. If we had a law for the suppression of lying correspondents, the afternoon newspapers of Louisville could give all their Frankfort news in a stickfull of type.

IT is said to be definitely settled that the Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE will locate in New York and open a law foundry as soon as he quits the Secretaryship of the Treasury. Mr. CARLISLE was not eggsceedingly well pleased with the eggstraordinary reception tendered him on the occasion of his last visit to his old home at Covington.

PREPARATIONS for President-elect MCKINLEY'S inauguration are rapidly approaching completion. Up to date accommodations have been approved by the Public Comfort Committee for 35,408 persons, and places where meals would be served for 19,820. There is a probability that the Shenandoah Valley Patriotic Legion, composed of about 500 ex-Confederates, will be in line. One of the features of the Legion's share in the parade will be the band of the old Stonewall Jackson Brigade.

THE American Minister at Rome, WAYNE MACVEAGH, has had the honor of dancing with the Queen of Italy. We believe he is the only American Ambassador who ever had the honor of dancing with a Queen.—Sandusky Register."

It was the boast of the late Hon. WILLIAM MCALEER of Philadelphia that he danced with Queen VICTORIA, but that, we believe, was before her coronation. Nor should we ever forget that "Paramount" BLOUNT had a little Virginia reel—or was it a cake walk?—with her majesty Queen LIL, once upon a time at Honolulu.—Times-Star.

Our Cincinnati contemporary is in error. It was the late Hon. RICHARD VAUX of Philadelphia who danced with Queen VICTORIA; and the dancing was done in 1837, when Mr. VAUX was Secretary of the American Legation at the Court of St. James.

WHEN the McKinley Bill was passed, the Tariff had not received a thorough revision for thirty years. The people were unprepared for the radical changes which had been made necessary by the changed conditions during those thirty years. Comparatively few of the people in general realize yet how the McKinley Bill enlarged the free list or know in how many cases it lowered Tariff rates. These things the Free-traders, for their own purposes, passed by. They dwelt on the cases where an increase of duty had been found necessary. People in general, says The American Economist, were deceived into thinking that the McKinley Bill had advanced rates without reason or consideration. They did not understand the necessity for the increased rates where they were made and they feared results. This state of affairs does not exist today, and will not work the destruction of the new Tariff Law. However the people may lack knowledge still of the specific provisions of the McKinley Law, they lack no appreciation of its beneficent results. They have come to understand the scientific and statesmanlike methods which underlay that measure. They have come to realize the changed industrial conditions, and to know that Tariff changes are made to meet changed conditions and not merely to express the whims of the framers of the bill. Moreover, they will not be afraid of high duties per se. There were plenty of instances under the McKinly Law where the duty on an article was materially raised, but still the price of the article did not advance. Take the case of tin plate, for instance. The duty was materially increased, and yet the retail price of tin plate did not advance. The only result of the increased duty was the establishment of many mills for the manufacture of tin plate, and the giving of employment to many thousands of hands. The people can stand as many results of that kind as the new Tariff Law chooses to give. The Free-traders will have to do something more than cry "high Tariff," if they want to have any effect in the future. The people are not going to give the attention to that empty charge that they did before their experience under the McKinley Law taught them that "high Tariff" and low prices often go hand in hand.

Now For '97!

Encouraged by my largely increased business of the past year, and in order to meet the largely increasing demands of my trade, I have taken advantage of the great depression in business throughout the country, which has been the cause of forcing large quantities of the most desirable goods in my line on the market at extremely low prices, and bought for cash the largest, cleanest and most attractive stock of goods ever offered to the people of this city. Therefore I am in condition to offer to cash and prompt paying customers the very best bargains ever offered in the trade and at the same time give them the very best class of goods. My stock consists of every article and much more than can be found in many strictly first-class houses in the country, consisting of

My house is headquarters for Poultry, Game and Oysters in season, always fresh and tempting, and when you want the best cakes and bread don't fail to buy my Perfection Flour—it is always the best; and my Splendid Coffee has no equal. Watch for my Specials, and don't fail to take advantage of them. I want country people when in our city to make my house headquarters; you are always welcome. And don't forget that I run no wagons; regular and will deliver all goods promptly. If you can't come telephone No. 83, and your wants will be added to. Thanking all for the very liberal patronage of the past, I hope by fair dealing and prompt and polite attention to the wants of the public to merit a continuance of same.

WAR IN CRETE.

Greek Corps of Occupation Lands Near Canea.

Demonstrations of the Wildest Joy in Athens Over the News.

One Hundred Men Each From the Russian, French, British, Italian and Austrian Fleets Occupy the City of Canea—Turkey Gives Assent.

ATHENS, Feb. 16.—The latest advices from Canea say that a heavy battle is in progress. The Christian insurgents are making a vigorous attack upon the fort with artillery, but the Turkish resistance was successful up to last accounts, although the engagement was sanguinary on both sides. The Turkish authorities at Canea have begged the commanders of the foreign fleets to land men and occupy the town. They have telegraphed to their respective governments for instructions, which, as yet, have not been received.

LATEST PICTURE OF THE SULTAN

Serious fighting is also in progress in other parts of the island, with varying fortunes, between the Moslems and Christians. The Greek people are in a state of frantic excitement, and are unanimous for war. King George has really no choice in the matter of the bellicose policy, which has been adopted. The feelings of the people are beyond control, and there is little doubt that the king would be driven out of the country if he ventured to oppose them.

CANEA, Feb. 16.—The commanders of the British and other foreign warships stationed here have informed Prince George, commanding the Greek torpedo flotilla, that they have received orders to prevent the occupation of the island of Crete by Greece and if necessary to use force to carry out these instructions.

ATHENS, Feb. 16.—Advices received here from the island of Crete announce that the "corps of occupation," consisting of infantry, artillery and engineers, numbering 1,500 men, which embarked at Piraeus Sunday, have landed at Platanias, 14 kilometers west of Canea. The warships of the powers, these advices also state, had previously landed strong detachments at Retimo, Heraklion and Candia.

When the announcement was made here that the corps of occupation under command of Col. Vassos, chief, had landed in Crete, demonstrations of the wildest joy were indulged in by the populace.

A dispatch from Canea states that Col. Vassos has issued a proclamation to the Cretans and has demanded that the Turks surrender.

CANEA, Crete, Feb. 16.—One hundred men each from the Russian, French, British and Italian fleets at Canea, and 50 Austrians have been landed, under command of an Italian officer, and have occupied the city, the Turkish officials having given their assent to the step. The flags of the nations represented by the occupying force have been hoisted upon the ramparts of the fortress.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—In the chamber of deputies Monday M. Hanotaux, minister of foreign affairs, replying to an inquiry by M. Jaures regarding the situation in Crete, said that the status of affairs in that island was such as to render a public exhibition impossible. M. Jaures expressed his dissatisfaction with the reply of the foreign minister to his request for information and demanded that the Cretan affair be discussed at once by the chamber. Thereupon M. Meline, the premier, declared that such action was impossible, as the discussion would necessitate the divulgence of secrets which are not France's alone and demanded that the consideration of the matter be adjourned, and this course was adopted by a vote of 382 to 70.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The Standard Tuesday prints a dispatch from its Athens correspondent saying that the powers have decided to supervise the execution of a new charter for Crete, the chief feature of which is the autonomy of the island under the joint rules of the powers.

The Standard's correspondent further says that he has been assured by a Greek official of high position that Emperor William of Germany used his influence very largely to effect this solution of the matter, which is hailed with delight and the crisis is considered to be over.

IN CONGRESS.

Bankruptcy Bill Taken Up in the Senate —Nundry Civil Bill Passed in the House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—SENATE—Monday the bankruptcy bill came up as the unfinished business. The senate substitute for the bill was read in full and a substitute for the 16 sections was offered by Nelson (rep., Minn.). It was not read. The bill was then laid aside. A conference report on the senate bill to provide time and places for holding terms of the United States courts in Utah was presented and agreed to. The house amendments were concurred in. A conference report on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was presented and agreed to. A conference was ordered on the agricultural appropriation bill. The private pension bills on the calendar, numbering 61, were taken up and passed. One of these increased the widow of Gen. Benjamin S. Roberts' pension to $50 a month.

HOUSE—The sundry civil bill was passed Monday. Senate amendments to the agricultural appropriation bill were nonconcurred in and sent to conference. Bills passed: To supply the national guards of the various states and territories with modern Springfield rifles of 46 caliber in exchange for their present rifles; extending the time for the completion of the St. Paul, Minnesota and Manitoba railway in Minnesota; senate resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to furnish a naval or other ship to transport to India certain supplies donated by western states for the relief of the starving poor of that country. The bill to provide for the adjustment of claims of the United States against the state of Tennessee and the claims of the state of Tennessee against the United States was defeated—yeas 55, nays 41, two-thirds being necessary to pass the bill.

WHITE SQUADRON.

Heavy Gun Practice by the Big War Vessels in Charleston Harbor.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 16.—The feature of the day in the blockading of the port of Charleston by Admiral Bunce's fleet consisted of some heavy gun practice by the entire squadron. Shortly after 1 o'clock the ships moved into their blockading positions and putting out floating targets at distances ranging from 400 to 1,000 yards, began to get their main batteries into action.

The line of action was the same as that which the fleet has observed during the other blockade work, the Massachusetts to the north and then the Maine, Amphitrite, New York, Indiana and Columbia running away to the southward at a distance of 3,000 yards apart. The targets used were the ordinary floating triangles, of seven feet to the side. The practice began at 1:15 in the afternoon and continued without interruption until 3:30 p. m. The main batteries of the ships are the Massachusetts, four 13-inch, eight 8-inch, and four 6-inch guns; the Maine, four 10-inch and six 6-inch guns; the Amphitrite, four 10-inch and two 4-inch rapid-fire guns; the New York, six 6-inch and 12 four-inch rapid-fire guns; the Indiana, four 13-inch, eight 8-inch and four 6-inch guns; and the Columbia, one 8-inch, two 6-inch and eight 4-inch rapid fire guns. The guns on the individual ships were in action one at a time and while the ships were anchored. Only the Massachusetts fired her 13-inch guns at intervals of two minutes, and at one time the battleship Maine fired her 8-inch guns, which several shots at her target. The guns were loaded with service cartridges and shells were the main projectiles used. The booming of the guns reverberated for several miles along the coast and in the city the concussion could not only be heard but felt distinctly. The shooting was merely all line shooting, and while the range of the targets were not gotten with accuracy, the practice was apparently successful. Many of the projectiles struck short of the targets, and plunging into the ocean, ricocheted sometime for a mile before making the second plunge.

ARTHUR DUESTROW,

The Condemned Murderer, Taken From St. Louis to Union, Mo.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16.—Arthur Duestrow was taken to Union, Mo., at 9 o'clock Monday morning under an escort of four deputy sheriffs. Duestrow will be hanged in the jail yard at Union Tuesday for the murder of his wife and four-year-old son, in this city on February 13, 1894. A mob gathered at the city jail early Monday morning to witness the departure of Duestrow, but no violence was offered. At the Union station another crowd had assembled to view the noted murderer and it was with difficulty the police forced a passage to the train. Duestrow continued to feign insanity up to the moment of his departure.

A commission of lunacy appointed by Gov. Stephens examined Duestrow Sunday and made their report Monday morning. Two of the commission (Dr. Coons of Kansas City and Dr. Woodson, of St. Joseph) decide that the murderer is sane, and the other members (Dr. Robinson of Nevada) is of the opinion that Duestrow is insane. Gov. Stephens announced this forenoon that he will be governed by the majority report, and will not interfere with the sentence of the court. The governor also states that he will not interfere in the cases of murderers Schmidt and Foster, who are to hang Tuesday at Clayton for the killing of Bertram Atwater, of Chicago, on January 13, 1895.

CAUTIOUS DONS.

Constant Uncertainty About the Movements of Patriots.

Gen. Weyler Urgently Demands a Reinforcement of 5,000 Soldiers.

He Is Afraid of Being Defeated in Las Villas by Gen. Gomez—Spaniards Take Refuge in Fortifications, Leaving the Country in Control of Gomez.

HAVANA, Feb. 16.—The marquis of Ahumada, second in command of the island of Cuba, received Saturday a dispatch from Gen. Weyler urgently demanding a reinforcement of 5,000 soldiers to help him in Las Villas. Though this fact has been kept out of the newspapers and away from the general public, it is well known in official circles and by influential Spaniards, and has created a great sensation. Weyler is afraid of the presence of Gomez, now in progress, and thinks that the 25,000 regular Spanish soldiers under his command in Las Villas, besides the 6,000 or 7,000 volunteers and guerrilla forces, are not enough to check the Cuban leader.

The Spaniards have taken refuge in the towns and fortifications, leaving the country to the control of Gomez.

Without reinforcements Weyler does not dare to attack the Cubans. Gomez however, keeps moving from one place to another in the province, but all the while advancing slowly to the west, keeping Weyler in constant uncertainty about his intentions.

Here in Havana the situation is no more favorable to the Spaniards than in Las Villas. The 4,000 Cubans who are on the hills of Gavilan are constantly harrassing the neighboring town of Managua and the Havana suburbs. Their flags displayed in the hills are seen from the capital.

Great uneasiness prevails here on account of all this, and Gomez's approach fills the authorities with keenest anxiety. At the same time the financial situation is desperate. The news that the government is willing to extend 30,000,000 the issue which it has already made of 20,000,000 in bank notes has created a panic. The merchants protest against such a measure as meaning the total ruin of the country. Daily runs are attempted on the Spanish bank of the island of Cuba, but a strong force of military police guards the doors.

KEY WEST, Fla., Feb. 16.—Passengers by the Mascotte from Havana state that the patriots are increasing in Havana and Pinar del Rio provinces. Trains out of Havana have been discontinued except to nearby points.

The trestle and bridges having been previously tested, the Chicago mail thundered up the tracks at top speed. There was not the slightest unusual vibration, and everything worked like a charm. The draw at the Harlem river is the largest in the world. It is 400 feet in length by 58½ feet in width, and swings on a pivotal pier of solid masonry.

The couple had been missing since Saturday night, when it appears they burned the residence of Henry Sutherland, a brother of Mrs. Ripley. From her brother's home they went to the Holston river and drowned themselves. A note found in Ripley's coat pocket requested that the bodies be buried in the same coffin. The cause of their act is supposed to have been ill feeling between Ripley and the Sutherland family. Ripley was highly connected and had been married but ten days. Mrs. Ripley was possessed of some property, and they were not in distress in any way. Before taking the fatal step they piled their outer garments, saddles, etc., in a church and let their horses loose.

FARES, PLEASE!

Hard-Hearted Conductor Made the Ladies Tor the Mark.

They were two determined-looked women, and when they got on the car with six uneasy-looking children, with unruly looking hair and severely shined shoes, he anticipated trouble and his lips drew up in a tight line, says The Chicago News.

"Wait till you see the fight," he said to a passenger as he started in. And he advanced meekly up to the women. "Fares, please," he said.

And each woman dove down into a large black reticule and brought up a large, shiny purse, gave him five pennies, and, turning to the other, started in on a lively conversation.

"Fares, please," repeated the Conductor.

"What's the matter?" demanded one of the women. Ain't that enough? What are you charging now—10 cents a ride?" and she looked over at her friend and smiled knowingly "You'll have to pay for those children," said the Conductor.

"Pay for them? Well, I guess not. Why, I never heard of such a thing I never had to pay for them before."

"Well, you'll have to pay for them now," said the Conductor, dryly.

"Why, I won't do it. It's outrageous."

"Well, you'll have to get off, then," said the Conductor.

"What's that?" angrily demanded the other woman. Say, Mr. Smarty, my husband knows a man that works for this company, and he'll see that you lose your job. Why, goodness gracious, did you ever hear of such a thing?" And she seemed terribly shocked.

"Well, I can't help that," said the Conductor. "You'll have to pay your fare or get off," and he reached menacingly for the bell rope.

"Say," said the other woman savagely, as she reached far her purse again. "I wish I was a man. I'd show you!" And then they gave him fifteen pennies apiece and watched him until he rang them up.

"H-m," said the Conductor, exasperatingly, and he started away.

"That's all right, you brute," exclaimed the woman. "I'll teach you something—I'm a lady, I am—"

"That so?" said the Conductor. "I'm glad you told me—I wouldn't have known it."

"Oh! oh!" said the woman

And the Conductor went out and stood on the platform and smiled all the while until they got off.

TRY IT!

You wouldn't think of going to a person's house unless you were invited to do so; and one's business place is just as much his "castle," and is just as secure from intrusion as his dwelling. Therefore, when a merchant wishes people to come and see him, and to buy his goods, he invites them; and the acknowledged way to do that is by placing an invitation in THE LEDGER, where everyone can see it.

MRS. LOYALL

Under Arrest Charged With Murdering Her Mother, Assisted By Husband and Grandson.

HODGENVILLE, Ky., Feb. 16.—Jesse Loyall and wife were lodged in jail here Monday morning, charged with the murder of Mrs. Kitty Warren, in the Otter creek section of this county. Mrs. Loyall is a daughter of the murdered woman. A grandson of the dead woman is also wanted on the same charge, but he has left the country. Officers are now searching for him, and he will in all probability be apprehended.

It is believed that the grandson did the killing, but Loyall and wife are accused of being accomplices. Mrs. Warren was found dead last Sunday. Her face was badly bruised and her neck broken. She lived at the home of Loyall, and the circumstances surrounding her death were so mysterious that the people were led to believe that she had been foully dealt with.

At the coroner's inquest the parties above mentioned gave in evidence of such a nature in regard to Mrs. Warren's death that they were suspicioned and arrested.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 16.—The officers of the Frankfort and Lawrenceburg turnpikes thinks the county authorities have not acted in good faith in their attempte to break up the toll gate raiders, and propose to get revenge on the county in a novel way. Taking toll was resumed at the blown up gate Monday, and the raiders will have a chance to carry out their threat.
